

Teaching

Instructor for Kansas Department of Health Compost Operator Course held in El Dorado and Garden City. February 2005. Instructor (Guest) for OASIS an organic agriculture class for NMSU students through the department of Agricultural Economics, College of Agriculture and Home Economics. 2002 - present.

Instructor for 6-week internship through a special USDA grant with the College of Agriculture designed to teach scientific method. Student collected data using the NRCS soil quality test kit on plots that had received varying amounts of dairy manure in a cotton/corn rotation. Summer 2002, 2003.

Instructor for New Mexico Environment Department Solid Waste Bureau Composting Operator Certification Course. 1/96 - present. Instructor for New Mexico Cooperative Extension Service Master Gardener program. 1/96-present.

Instructor for New Mexico Cooperative Extension Service Ornamental and Turf program. 1/96-2005.

NMSU Instructor/facilitator for summer internships. Oversight and weekly/daily lessons on scientific method, water management, insect pest scouting, and weed identification for students working on internships at the ag science center, local farms, and dairies. 5/96 - present.

Guest Lecturer for Dairy Management Courses at New Mexico State University. Topics have included organic waste management for agricultural production. 1996 - 2001.