How to Apply:

- Complete the SAFE Application.
- Provide a copy of all college transcripts.
- Provide a typed 300 word essay entitled "My Education and Career Goals."
- Provide two letters of support from faculty or employers.
- Copy of Financial Aid award letter (for current semester).
- Copy of signed Student Contract.

For More Information:

Dr. Efren Delgado
Email: edelgad@nmsu.edu
PH: 915-504-2373

Dr. Nancy Flores
Email: naflores@nmsu.edu
PH: 575-646-1179

Dr. Stuart Munson-McGee
Email: smunsonm@nmsu.edu
PH: 575-646-2565

Dr. Esther Devall
Email: edevall@nmsu.edu
PH: 575-646-1161

Family & Consumer Sciences Dept.
New Mexico State University
P.O. Box 30003, MSC 3470
Las Cruces, NM 88003-8003
PH: 575-646-3936
Fax: 575-646-1889
http://aces.nmsu.edu/academics/FCS

Southwest Agriculture and Food Security Education (SAFE):
Preparing Future Leaders for a Safe and Secure U.S. Food Supply System

United States Department of Agriculture
Funded Project, USDA Award No. 2014-02690
Why do you want to be a SAFE USDA Fellow?

Benefits of USDA Fellowship for Graduate Students:

⇒ $8,000 per year for 2 years for tuition, fees, and books.
⇒ Earn MS degree in Food Science, Human Nutrition, Animal Nutrition, or other agriculture/science major related to USDA careers.
⇒ Internships, job shadowing, and graduate research opportunities.
⇒ Travel paid to attend workshops, field trips, and conferences.

Requirements of the SAFE Program:

• U.S. Citizen: Hispanic/Latino.
• Maintain at least a 3.0 GPA.
• Full-time graduate student (enrolled in 9 or more credit hours) in both the Fall and Spring semesters.
• Complete all requirements to graduate with a master’s degree.
• Participate in professional development workshops and online training in food safety and security.

United States Department of Agriculture Funded Project, USDA Award No. 2014-02690

Extracting protein from cottonseed meal.

Spray dryer used on protein extracts.