

Dairy Worker Health and Well Being Training

This training provides important health information for dairy workers & managers

The purpose of this training is to help dairy farm workers understand the importance of their health and well-being as employees of their farm as well as understand how to prevent the transmission of respiratory diseases (e.g., COVID-19, tuberculosis, influenza) not only on the farm, but at home. In addition, live and pre-recorded webinars are available to help producers and herdsmen mitigate infection and transmission of COVID-19 on dairy farms.

- General worker wellbeing & safety
- Healthy at Home & at Work
- Vaccination information:
- COVID 19, Flu, tetanus
- Healthy around cows:
- TB education and TB testing
- On-site health checks & vaccinations

Available Resources and Trainings

Webinars for Producers & Herdsmen in English

Live training on farm available in English & Spanish

Training on mobile devices available in English, Spanish & K'iche'

FOR RESERVATIONS CONTACT
Robert Hagevoort
Extension Dairy Specialist
Tel: 806-786-3421 (c)
Email: dairydoc@nmsu.edu

