

Joseph Fickett hails from San Simon, Arizona where him and his brother raised show goats on their farm dubbed Double Cross Livestock through high school. He has as well helped his grandparents continue to expand and develop a Dorper show flock dubbed A Bar H Farm, which is located in South Eastern Arizona. After graduating High School, he was honored to be able to judge livestock with some of the next generation's greatest stockmen and women at Butler Community College in El Dorado, Kansas. As a member of the 2016-2018 team, Joseph was able to continue to expand his stockmen logic under some of the best coaches in the country. After leaving Butler with his Associates Degree in Agribusiness Joseph is continuing his academic career at the University of Arizona. He has also been a member of the livestock judging team and has served as an assistant coach under Carmen McConnel. Joseph plans to graduate, in May of 2021, with a degree in Environmental Studies and a minor in Water Policy and Law. After graduation, Joseph plans to attend law school in order to practice law in the water and electric utilities industries.
