New AES/CES Publications Print Ordering and Distribution Policy

by Ana Henke, Publications Supervisor

Newly Released Publications

When a new publication is ready for printing, an email will be sent to the ACES email list. This email will contain a link to the PDF version of the publication.

To order printed copies of new publications, first download the PDF of the publication. You will then need to contact one of the NMSU-contracted print vendors, or a local printer in your area, and submit the PDF to them for printing. For a list of print vendors, visit: <https://print.nmsu.edu/>

Previously Released Publications

For publications that have already been released and are available on the AES/CES publications website (aces.nmsu.edu/pubs), you will need to download the PDF version of the publication you wish to print and submit the PDF to the print vendor for printing.

Archival copies are also kept at these locations:

- New Mexico State Library (nmsstatelibrary.org)
- National Agricultural Library (agricola.nal.usda.gov)
- NMSU Zuhl Library (call no. J87.N6)

Publications are also available online in HTML, PDF and eBook formats at aces.nmsu.edu/pubs/.
